I am looking for the opportunity to work in a good team where I can grow as a professional and contribute to the development of the company. I have over 5 years of web development experience and I am always willing to learn more. I understand that to fit in completely with a new team, I will encounter several new challenges, but I will do my best to overcome them and use them to work through my limitations. As a good Brazilian I definitely not afraid of working hard to handle my responsibilities and prove myself, I feel prepared and that is why I am sure that I will be a good fit for your team.
